(NEW INFORMATION WILL BE IN RED)

Firefighter Day – April 23rd (Tuesday)

Action Alert Update – The house budget is completed and sent to the Governor with $200,000 additional fire training money in the Division of Fire Safety’s budget. This gives us nearly $500,000 total training money, with $400,000 coming from state GR and the balance from fireworks registration fees. Your contacts to the committee worked, now we need to focus on the Senate Appropriations Committee – Below.

THIS WEEK AT THE CAPITOL

Omnibus Public Safety Bill - HB335 is now eligible to go to the House debate calendar. As you recall, it took one bad amendment from Representative Roorda, which will allow employees of one fire district to run for another fire district board. Jorgen spoke to Representative Hinson, the chairman as well as the sponsor of the bill, and told him of our opposition. After, he and Jorgen met with the Rules Chairman; he is committed to remove the language.

Tax Reform –

It is now the House’s turn to put their stamp on the proposal.

Well the Senate jumped off the cliff in hopes that the water is deep when the journey ends. They passed a whopper of a tax cut, some claim as much as $600M, others believe a couple hundred million less than that. The bill captures sales taxes on more on-line purchases and phases in a ½ cent sales tax over 5 years. Those combined are only $400M, and the cut to income (corp and individual) taxes is over $1 billion. Remember our entire state budget is only $7.7 billion, but if you exclude transportation and conservation (both constitutionally protected), education foundation formula, and current Medicaid expenditures, not increases, the amount of money the state really has to spend is less than $2B. The governor blasted the Senate, but one positive is it finally gets the discussion of center.

Sunshine Law Hearing - The Missouri Press Association was successful in placing a very bad amendment on a bill we support, which extends the sunset date to keep emergency operation and plan documents closed to the public – See SB139 below. However the companion bill in the House (HB256) has passed the House and received a lightening fast Senate Committee assignment. This will be the version that moves, and we will need to keep Sen. Schaefer's amendment off this version of the bill when it reaches the senate floor.

The House General Laws committee heard the Missouri Press Association legislation, which mirrors the amendment noted above on SB319. Jorgen testified in opposition, primarily regarding the section that removed the "knowingly" standard on sunshine violations, making mistakes subject to a fine. The second piece we opposed was changing such fine to a mandatory one, in lieu of the current law allowing the court discretion on assessing a fine.

The House Committee recommendations are turned into the full budget committee and we will work to get an increase in the Fire Training fund when the Budget committee restructures the budget to send it to the floor for debate.

Omnibus Public Safety Bill - The big bill voted out this week was HB335. It took one bad amendment from Representative Roorda, which will allow employees of one fire district to run for another fire district board. Jorgen spoke to Representative Hinson, the chairman as well as the sponsor of the bill, and told him of our opposition. After, he and Jorgen met with the Rules Chairman, he committed to the Rep Riddle (Rules Chairman) that he would remove the language, and she agreed to release it from the committee to go to the floor for debate. The bad amendment by Rep. Roorda will be heard as a bill in Hinson's committee

The snowstorm sent the legislature home early, so not a lot of activity. The budget continues to move forward, and we still look for an increase in training funds to be added in the process, which will conclude in the House in late March. The fire training-funding bill remains in the sub appropriation committee, shown below

Omnibus Public Safety Bill - The big bill voted out this week was HB335. It took one bad amendment from Representative Roorda, which will allow employees of one fire district to run for another fire district board. Jorgen spoke to Representative Hinson, the chairman as well as the sponsor of the bill, and told him of our opposition. He said he would work with us to remove it from the bill. The bill is now in Rules and Jorgen has talked to Jeanie Riddle, chair of the committee to see if she will get a commitment to remove that amendment on the floor.

The bill also contains the community paramedic provision, which is gaining opposition from the doctors. Jorgen thinks that the provision will need modification before it gains acceptance from the provider community.

As was predicted the $1 increase in property tax for FPD's was removed as it would have drawn heavy opposition on the floor.

A provision to increase filing fees for FPD board of directors from $10 to $50 was included.

In what was the surprise of the week to Jorgen, was Senator Parson received first round approval on SB24, which allows 3rd and 4th class counties to vote on adopting a building code, with Ag structures exempted. It will be up for final approval from the senate when they return on Monday.

Two bills were filed to incorporate first responders including firefighters into a law that increases penalties for speeding while passing such personnel while they are working. Senator Wasson, noted below and Shawn Rhoads (HB638)

Guns, Guns, Guns is the topic in the capitol and the nation.

SB 271 - This act requires that 911 operators receive training in state law regarding self-defense and defense of others in order to assist callers who are in imminent danger of sustaining serious injury or death. This act gives 911 operators immunity from civil liability when providing this information except in cases of willful and wanton misconduct or gross negligence. This bill will be heard on Feb 26th in the General Laws Committee.

The Budget Chairman, Rep Stream, introduced the budget bills this week. Before you go online and read them, they simply mirror the current years budget and not his priorities or substantive changes. The real budget bill for FY14 will be revealed in committee, which will begin in a couple weeks.

Jorgen met with Rep Stream. He seems very supportive of additional FF training money, we will learn more about the amount of available funds in the next couple weeks, and then have a firm number.

Chief Russ Mason has been to Jefferson City on many occasions visiting with House members promoting additional funding and his efforts are helping tremendously. Thanks for his efforts. Next week we will shift our focus from the Public Safety Appropriations Committee to the House Budget Committee.

Infrastructure was the big topic of the week. A mix of house and senate members continue to push for a 1 cent sales tax for 10 years which will generate $8 billion for projects throughout the state. Half of the cost of rebuilding I-70 would come from this revenue source, the other would be from funds already allocated by existing highway funds. Another camp, including the House chairman and Speaker prefer the bonding method, which brings in significantly less than $8 billion, at most probably just under $2 billion, but it has no tax increase associated with it, and would be paid from existing general revenue over a longer period of time than the competing 10 year sales tax proposal. The two camps are far from a resolution.

The Senate Economic Development Committee passed out two bills that have not made it through the Senate in past sessions because of a lack of a deal on the over all reform of Tax Credits.

The House Public Safety Appropriations Committee met this week, as did the Senate Appropriations Committee for the purpose of taking public testimony. Chief Russ Mason testified and was received very well by the Chairman, Kurt Schaefer from Columbia. Jorgen has a meeting to follow up with Sen. Schaefer and his staff regarding increasing training dollars in the FFTF. Thank you to Russ for taking time to do this!

The House Committee will receive public testimony on Wednesday in HR 6 at 2 p.m. Jorgen will also meet with Rep Marsha Haefner, the new chair of the committee and Rep Dave Hinson, one of it's members, as she begins to contemplate her recommendations to the full Budget Committee. She does not get to make changes to the budget bills, but a good recommendation always helps. This will likely happen in late February, and the Senate will make their decisions in April.

Dave Hinson, new chairman of the Crime Prevention and Public Safety, will hold an organizational meeting this week. He has already discussed developing a omnibus public safety bill. He will work with us nicely.

The Senate passed two bills in as many days, both of which had been debated for the past several sessions and never made progress. The Senate has sent a signal that gridlock is a thing of the past.

The House continues to work on the budget now that the governor announced his budget, built on revenues that are not yet available, and need legislation to enact them. The Republicans pushed back hard on a few of his initiatives including the expected Medicaid expansion.

FSA Priority Issues

911 legislation - (HB653 – Jeannie Lauer) was heard before the House Criminal Law and Public Safety Committee. This bill, while broadly supported by our community, will have an uphill battle as we expected.

911 legislation - has been filed (HB653 – Jeannie Lauer) and was assigned to the House Criminal Law and Public Safety Committee, and scheduled for a hearing on Wednesday in the House. Exact location is not yet known. This is clearly the committee we want, but stalled this week after the sponsor decided not to file the bill.

The bill states, among other provisions, “In lieu of the tax levy authorized under section 190.305 or the sales tax imposed under section 190.335, the governing body of any county may impose, by order or ordinance, a monthly fee on any device capable of contacting 911. The fee authorized in this section shall not exceed one dollar and fifty cents per any such device capable of contacting 911, and shall be imposed solely for the purpose of funding 911 service in such county.”

Stalled this week after the sponsor decided not to file the bill. We will look for other sponsors, but it is a tax increase, which is not received warmly in with this legislature.

9-1-1 legislation is nearing introduction. We have seen a couple drafts, but no final version has been distributed. The bill will likely contain a local county option, instead of a statewide effect.

Increase Training Funds

Russ Mason testified before the Senate two weeks ago, and now the House Appropriations Committee this week. Both times he received support for his request of more training money. The Budget bills begin in the House but won't be officially introduced until late this month or even early March. Jorgen looks for an increase, hopefully $100,000 or more, when the bills are passed out of the House, and sent to the Senate.

State Emergency Fund for Disasters

Move over Law to also include Emergency Responders

Emergency Responder Protection – two bills are moving, which incorporate first responders including firefighters into a law that increases penalties for speeding while passing such personnel while they are working.

Senator Wasson's legislation (SB282) is out of the Senate Transportation Committee and has been placed on the Senate debate calendar. The House bill is sponsored by Rep. Shawn Rhoads – R-West Plains (HB638), and it was heard in committee.

Emergency Responder Protection - Two bills were filed, one of which was heard this week in the Senate, to incorporate first responders including firefighters into a law that increases penalties for speeding while passing such personnel while they are working. Senator Wasson's legislation (SB282) was heard in the Senate Transportation Committee and should move out of that committee this week. The House bill is sponsored by Rep. Shawn Rhoads – R-West Plains (HB638)

Increased fines for violating traffic laws when passing by an emergency worker on the road way has been introduced (SB282 – see below).

Immunity Legislation

Legislation that provides additional liability protection for law enforcement officers while performing acts within their normal course of business has been introduced. We will attempt to expand that to firefighters and EMS as well. (HB 425)

Legislation that provides additional liability protection for law enforcement officers, while performing acts within their normal course of business, was heard this week, but appears to be dead. We wanted to amend firefighter protections onto this bill, but will have to find another vehicle. I suspect if protections for police were not supported, ours will have an uphill battle as well.

OTHER ISSUES

Workers Compensation

Workers Compensation reform was passed out of the House Committee this week.

The bill was heard in the House Committee this week. No vote was taken, but Jorgen suspects action on the bill will take place immediately after break.

It appears now that some organizations are opposing the bill, but specific to the occupational disease portion, which does not affect us.

Workers Compensation reform was heard this week in the House committee. Two contentious issues remain, despite the Senate believing they had an agreement when it left the Senate. Revamping the second injury fund for non-toxic chemical/asbestos related claims appears to be settled. The dispute revolves around the amount of compensation an injured worker would be guaranteed, and how is that paid. The current bill places much of the burden on the 2nd injury fund, but many employers who don't have toxic issues in their business want only those companies that deal with these chemicals to foot the bill. No resolution yet.

The democrats' version was heard and voted down in committee this week, and suspect that was part of a plan to show a stark contrast from the version noted below.

Reform was completed this week in the Senate. There were two contentious issues, first revamping the second injury fund, from which volunteer firefighters receive a small amount if injured, and restructuring how much one is eligible for occupational disease benefits (this does not apply to FF, as they are under a different law). The 2nd injury fund solvency issue has been resolved, and the fund will not be eliminated but funded in various ways instead, which is good for us, however new Permanent Partial Disability claims will no longer be paid from the fund. It appears now that some organizations will be opposing the bill.

Workers Compensation reform is the theme for the week for the Senate. There will be significant debate on this issue, as there are multiple factions, and factions within factions attempting to resolve the bankrupt system.

A bill to increase filing fees for FPD board of directors from $10 to $50 will be introduced.

The big omnibus public safety bill has been introduced (see HB335 summary) below.

Medicaid update

Medicaid expansion continues to receive a lot of discussion but little movement. The issue is not ripe to pass until next session, but the sponsor is working diligently to get it before the full House and Senate this year still. The bill does not impact your typical client as of yet.

Reps Jay Barnes, Chris Molendorp, Keith Fredrick's and Tom Flannigan comprise an unofficial workgroup drafting legislation outlining their own "expansion" proposal. Fredrick introduced a "dissenting opinion" bill that creates a pilot project with a certain section of the existing Medicaid population. It would give them a specific amount of health care dollars to purchase health care in alternative methods, i.e managed care, individual policies, Medicaid plans etc. Jorgen does not think that bill has the necessary support at the moment to pass. Jay Barnes and Chris Molendorp introduced a bill, which expands the eligibility for Medicaid but contains cost controls, and sunset provisions in the event the federal government does not follow through with their funding commitments. Barnes bill allows eligibility to rise to 100% and not the max allowed (or some say required) by the feds, which is 138% of poverty. His version introduces copay reforms and allows different delivery models.

The democrats have introduced a full-blown version or expansion, and while that does not have a chance to pass, it makes the republican version appear more acceptable and therefore more likely to pass. Jorgen thinks this bill will morph several more times before a final product is sent to the Governor for his signature. A sunset of the expansion after the 100% match rate expires is certain to be in any proposal that attempts to expand the program. The democrats have introduced a full - blown version of expansion, and while that does not have a chance to pass, it will be heard in committee this week. Jorgen looks for Representative Barnes to file his bill after the hearing.

The House and Senate remain less than excited about moving this proposal forward and are looking for the other chamber to make the first move. The issue nonetheless continues to get significant conversation and is not dead by any stretch of the imagination. The expansion would cover many ambulance calls that are now for indigent patients. The expansion would cover people up to 138% of federal poverty. Current coverage is for adults under 19% of federal poverty level.

Reps Jay Barnes, Chris Mollendorp, Keith Fredrick's and Tom Flannigan comprise an unofficial workgroup drafting legislation outlining their own "expansion" proposal. That may include reforms and expansion but not to the federal requirement of 138%. This will be a game of chicken. The senate shows little movement thus far, but sun setting the expansion upon expiration of the 100% fed match does have some promise to get the senate's attention. It would then be for a future general assembly to renew the sun set. Much more to come-

HB 335 Hinson Will likely be voted out on Monday, Feb 18th. This bill has been rewritten by the sponsor, who happens to be the chair, who happens to be a paramedic and worked for a fire district (Dave Hinson). He has been very accommodating. A provision to increase filing fees for FPD board of directors from $10 to $50 will be included. The $1 per $100 assessed valuation increase for FPD will be stripped from the bill, as the increase in tax in a no more taxes environment will sink the rest of the package.

It is being replaced with another controversial item, although no cost to the state or taxpayers is a provision creating the designation of a community paramedic. This class of paramedic would assist hospitals in follow home visits to recently discharged patients to help reduce the hospitals readmission rate.

The committee has mixed feelings on the issue, but the chairman believes in the designation and therefore will fare well in committee at least.

Changes the laws regarding public safety. This is a big omnibus public safety bill. It contains a provision allowing FPD's to increase their levy by $1 by vote of the people. The bill also contains several provisions on EMS, killed in the line of duty benefit, and repeals various communicable disease statutes. Read the summary.
