

Are you looking to advance your fire service career?

Whether you are a volunteer or career Firefighter, you may want to lead your department. To do that you need to build the necessary skills. A certificate or minor in Fire Service Administration can help you reach your future career goals.

Developed from the Fire and Emergency Services Higher Education program of the National Fire Academy, this online certificate or minor will build on your work experience and training to get you to a new level of leadership and management to help you advance both your department and your career.

The following courses are needed to complete the certificate (4 courses) or to earn a minor (6 courses) in Fire Administration:

- Fire and Emergency Services Administration (3 hrs)
- Political and Legal Foundations of Fire Protection (3 hrs)
- Fire Prevention Organization and Management (3 hrs)
- Personnel Management for the Fire and Emergency Services Community Risk (3 hrs)
- Reduction for the Fire and Emergency Services (3 hrs)
- Applications of Fire Research (3 hrs)
